

csv,conf,v2

Bringing together data makers/doers/hackers from backgrounds like science, journalism, open government, and the wider software industry to share knowledge and stories

Berlin, 3-4 May, 2016

Submit a talk proposal now!

(deadline Feb 14th)

Want to propose a talk but aren't sure?

We're looking for new presenters as well as people with new ideas, so get in touch if you'd like help with your talk or your proposal.

We'll gladly lend a helping hand to anyone who asks.

This isn't just a conference about spreadsheets. We are curating content about advancing the art of data collaboration: from putting your data into repositories for sharing to producing meaningful insights by running large scale distributed processing on a cluster.

csvconf.com

a community conference for data makers everywhere